Birchbox Man February 2014: 10 Things We Learned from This Month's Box

For an aspiring gentleman, knowledge is power: Knowledge of culture, etiquette, fine spirits, and all the other cornerstones of a modish man about town. Our "Gentleman's Code" box touched on each of these points, but with 24 brands in this month's lineup, that's only the tip of the iceberg. Here are some of the juicier insights from February's sample test drive.

Argentina is Breathtaking

While we can't comment on Argentinian sights and cuisine, the aromas of AYRES Bar Soap paint a splendid national picture. Each scent is inspired by a different region of Argentina, from the grassy lowlands (the Pampas) to the brisk coastal waters of Patagonia. The results are captivating: One week with a scent had us cruising Google for airfare, though all we ended up buying was a Gaicho hat.
